

Ben was fantastic to work with. He always kept up informed and we never were left with unanswered questions. He listened to our needs throughout the process and adjusted our requests for market inventory. Ben was extraordinary at all times and is a true asset to Rachel Valentino's team. We are so pleased with the land that we have purchased for our new home to be built in Middleburg, VA. Ben was a huge help in deciding which piece of land would work best for our needs and wants just by listening to us. And for that we are so thankful. Ben was always very professional, honest and trustworthy. I might add that we moved here from NJ and we had the same real estate agent for 30 years (5 real estate transactions in all). She understood us and we were worried about finding an agent who would not only listen to us but who would help us out in an unfamiliar area. But to our surprise, we found our new realtor Ben Kanoy. Based off of our wonderful experience with Valentino Associates, we will definitely recommend this company to family, friends and colleagues.
