

I bought a condo with Rachel 4.5 years ago and it couldn't have been a better decision. We started off with a questionnaire about my requirements in a condo and she really listened. I wanted a bright, airy place that was close to my work and my friends and ended up in the brightest cutest place blocks away from friends and with the bus to work right on my corner. And now years later I have a great property that has grown in value and is a perfect rental. If you want a house in the area you can't go wrong with Rachel and her team.
