

We worked with Rachel to sell our first home, and cannot speak highly enough of her skills and service. Rachel expertly guided us through the entire process, from prepping the house to marketing, listing, reviewing contracts and negotiating offers. She regularly checked in to make sure we had all the information and support we needed, and kept our preferences and priorities in mind throughout. Her team was professional, friendly, and efficient, and made the process as enjoyable for us as possible. Most importantly, thanks to Rachel's keen instincts, we received multiple offers and settled on a final price that was substantially higher than we would ever have dreamed at the start.
