

I had exposure to Rachel and Ben. Both were extremely positive experiences. This is my 7th year knowing Rachel and my 4th property acquisition working with this team. Rachel even introduced me to her colleague in Vail, Colorado when I was buying out there a few years back. Each experience is better than the last! Their availability is unprecedented. Ben always re-worked his schedule to accommodate for my very inflexible one, Rachel was always willing to see homes with me, often times the next day. It seems like they worked tirelessly for me - and I'm definitely not their only client! Working with Rachel was extraordinary! She has the perfect balance of credentials, experience, professionalism and personality. She was able to safeguard my financial interests, remaining endlessly available, responsive, and present throughout the year we spent together searching for our dream home. She respected my price range and was well aware of pertinent market trends (ie. good schools, my commute to work, home market values for my target neighborhoods). She offered sound advice, was steadfast in her effort to secure a property for me and expertly negotiated an outstanding sale. The process is always seamless with Rachel.
