

"Being a first time home buyer, there were many options to consider since every property looked tempting! I had so many questions about what neighborhoods to consider, size of home, lending process, and Rachel was able to walk me through the entire process and what to expect. She was also extremely accommodating in scheduling times to show me homes, whether it was in Virginia or Maryland, she was always open to making the trip out. Since I am always swamped at work, Rachel was able to work with me on how I wanted to communicate with her - which was via email. Often times, I would email Rachel 5-6 times a day peppering her with all sorts of questions and she was always able to get back to me. I would strongly recommend Rachel to anyone who is looking for not just an agent, but a friend, to walk them through the home purchasing process."
