

We had an exceptional experience with selling our place with Valentino & Associates. Maria answered all of our questions, no matter how trivial they were, with amazing efficiency and respect. I'm sure we asked a lot of ridiculous questions, and she managed to make us feel like they were all reasonable! I know that we were not her only clients, but the attention she paid to us and the speed with which she responded to texts/emails/phone calls made it appear that we were. Also, Ben was absolutely incredible at jumping in during the staging consultation and photography session when he sensed I needed a little extra help. Unrelated to that, Ben's knowledge of the whole process is obvious, and he was a great resource throughout.

We felt that the entire team listened to us and our needs and personally connected with us to accomplish our goals. Throughout the process, we felt that Maria acted on our behalf in a honest, trustworthy and professional manner. We would 1000% recommend Maria, Ben, and the whole Valentino and Associates team to anyone. It could not have been a better experience for selling our condo.
