

I worked with Rachel Valentino and Ben Kanoy. Both were extremely responsive, helpful, knowledgeable, and easy to work with. They answered every question I had no matter how silly it might have seemed. They were incredibly professional and I couldn't have asked to work with a better team. I was selling from abroad, and they were very easy to get in touch with via email and Skype, and worked with me on timings. They also helped coordinate all of the condo being cleaned and ready to show without me having to be there. It was an incredibly easy process. Everything was really easy, the entire team went above and beyond to make this a very simple process and very quick. Rachel is so knowledgeable about the market, and I very much trusted her judgement on pricing and decisions. I felt every time I spoke with Rachel or Ben they had my best interest in mind. They were willing to answer any questions and made me completely comfortable with the process. Absolutely, I would trust Rachel and Ben completely and I know they were 100% honest with me and completely professional and I would definitely recommend them to family and friends.
