

Rachel helped my boyfriend buy his first house in November 2009. From our first meeting with her until the closing, we enjoyed every interaction with Rachel, found her to be professional, and were impressed with her knowledge of the area. We first met her over coffee, and, as neither of us had any experience with buying a house, she did a great job of introducing us to the process. We honestly felt no pressure to use her, but did not even need to discuss whether we wanted to hire her because she was that great. My boyfriend went out with her on one afternoon, saw seven places and put an offer on the first one. Rachel helped out with the entire mortgage process and choosing the right offer price.

We would recommend Rachel in an instant and will come to her again when we decide to move. She is definitely the best in the business and we feel lucky to have found her!
