

Rachel helped my husband and I buy our first house and we couldn't be happier with the outcome. She opened our eyes to neighborhoods and possibilities in DC that we had never considered. We ended up with more sq ft for our budget than we'd imagined - assuming that our price range might only get us a modest condo - we're now the proud owners of a three bedroom house. As first-time buyers, Rachel gave us great guidance and helped us plan in a way that made the process a little less scary. There were times where we felt like it was all moving so quickly, but Rachel worked closely with us along the way. She truly went to bat for us with negotiations, and we couldn't thank her more for that.
