

We are writing to share the wonderful experience we had working with Rachel Valentino. As first time homebuyers, we did not know about the process of purchasing a condo. Rachel was patient and clear, and guided us through each step. She quickly grasped our needs and our budget, and helped us to focus on condos that met our needs versus those that did not. When we eventually decided to make an offer on a short sale, Rachel's expertise was invaluable in dealing with the complexities involved. When our sale was approved only days before our wedding, Rachel helped us to move through the process quickly, and scheduled the closing for the day after our honeymoon. Rachel is thorough, patient, and professional. We had a wonderful experience working with her and thank her for everything.
